Open New Mokena Postoffice To Meet Christmas Rush

The new postoffice at Mokena was put into use today, (Dec. 1.) While there is still some work to be done before the building is completed the postoffice department permitted Postmaster Margaret O'Brien to move in now in preparation for the Christmas rush.

The new postoffice, which was built and leased to the government by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stiva, of Mr. Prospect, The lease is for 20 years with an option to renew for another 20. The building has 2,403 square feet of floor space, the major portion of which is devoted to work space. The old postoffice had a total of 688 square feet of floor space.

The new building also had loading docks at the rear which are easily accessible to trucks bringing in mail and carriers loading out.

Dedication of the new office will not take place until its completion, probably around the first of the year. Even if the work is finished before then it is not likely time would be taken out for a dedication program with the Christmas mailing rush on in full swing, it was pointed out.

All of the furnishings, counters, boxes, and the like, are new. There are 508 boxes, or 50 more than in the old building.

Thru December, the postmaster said, the postoffice will be open from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. five days a week. On two Saturdays, Dec. 10 and 17, the same schedule -- 7:00 to 5:30 -- will be maintained for the convenience of patrons.

New hours will go into effect, it was believed, about Jan. 1. It is probably that the boxes will be accessible then outside of regular postoffice hours.

The Mokena postoffice is listed in second class, it's receiving averaging approximately $32,000 annually. To qualify for first class status an office must have annual receipts of between $45,000 and $50,000, it was explained.

It is expected that Mokena will have home delivery of mail by next July. One of the first things that must be done to bring about such service, it was said, is for the village board to re-number the homes and business houses. The present numbering system, it was pointed out, is quite individualistic.

Charge Tinley Pair With Vicious Attack On Woman

Two Tinley Park men, who first denied, then admitted the rape, robbery, and assault of a housewife in her farm home about 10 p.m., Wednesday Nov. 23, were arraigned on the charges last Friday morning and placed under $25,000 bond each.

The men are Arthur Darby, 21, of 18037 Highland ave., and Keithel Parmer, 22, of 178th and Sayre ave.

Darby was picked up by state police shortly after the crime and Parmer was charged the next day after his attempt to provide an alibi failed.

According to Will County Sheriff Gilbert Knater, the pair finally admitted drinking in Oak Forest, then talked of holding up a gas station. Darby suggested that more money might be obtained by holding up a farmer.

The pair entered the home on Route 45, 1/2 mile from Anderson Station. The husband was away at work. They both attacked the mother, while her four small children slept in a bedroom, and hit her over the head with a pistol. They took several banks belonging to the children and some frozen foods from the refrigerator.

Darby was picked up by state police of Homewood at 183rd and drunk and asleep in his car. Although the gun, and articles from the home were found in his car, he denied the charges.

Several hours later he admitted the crime to Sheriff Knater, but insisted he was alone at the time.

Parmer, who spent the night at his brother's home in Harvey, tried to clear himself by appearing at the Homewood station the next morning and asserting he had been with his brother at the time of the assault and robbery.

Another Tinley Park man picked up by the local police on suspicion of being the second party involved, advised police of having seen the pair in Oak Forest Wednesday night.

The woman was able to give police a very good description of her attackers, the car they were driving and that they headed north.

The men had pulled the telephone from the wall before leaving. The victim went to the home of a neighbor, who called her father. He reported it to the Will County police.

Parmer was scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace Roy Benson, in Orland Park last Monday on charges of drunken driving and assaulting an officer on the Tinley Park police force. He was released several months ago from Pontiac Prison where he served a three-year sentence for burglary.

Last month Darby and Parmer were fined on another assault charge.

Lions Club To Hold Pre Yule Party Tonight

This evening, Thursday, Dec. 1 the regular membership meeting and Christmas party of the Mokena Lions Club will be held, to which the wives are invited to attend.

A 6:30 p.m. dinner will be served at Ritt's restaurant, Frankfort.

The program for the evening will feature a girls quartet from Lincoln-Way high school under the direction of Tom Olson. Those appearing will be Marilyn Miller, Lorna Miller, Gail Gregory and accompanist Gayle Harling. Soloist will be Larry Lubway accompanied by Gordon Case.

The annual Lions fruit cake drive has started and the captains and team members will canvass the homes in the area within the next few weeks. Proceeds are used toward the charitable functions of the club. Most recent function of the club is paying the increase rent for the local library due to their expansion of an added room.

Enrollment Continues To Rise At L-W

Enrollment has jumped in the Lincoln-Way High School area by nearly eighty per cent over the last five years, according to figures released by Supt. A. Hunter Chapman.

"This increase and prospects of even greater increase in the next few years poses a tremendous problem to the people and school officials of this area," Supt. Chapman emphasized.

This represents an increase of nearly 300 pupils per year in the systems; grades one thru twelve.

In 1955-56 just 1,835 pupils were registered in the Lincoln-Way high school and feeder grade schools, whereas, the present enrollment is 3,273, an actual increase of 1,438 pupils.

The figures indicate that Lincoln-Way high has yet to feel the pinch of enrollment. The present senior class has an enrollment of 160 pupils, and the present freshman class has 232 pupils registered. Next year's freshman group is expected to number 290, an increase of 130 more than the present seniors.

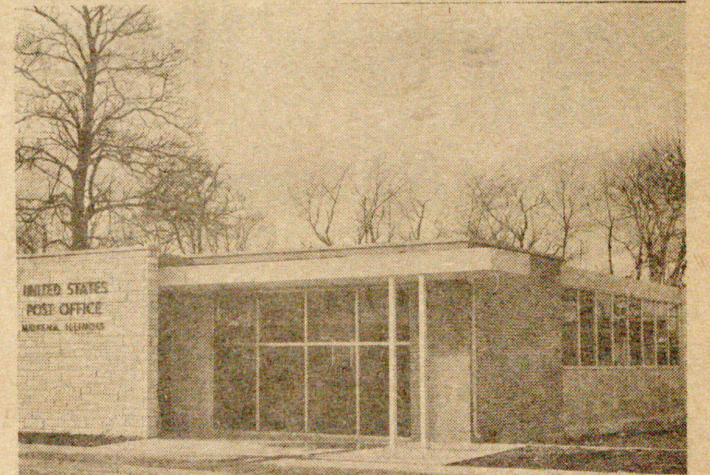

Next year the freshmen and sophomore classes will number more than the present sophomore, junior and senior classes. The projected enrollment for the two classes in 1961 is 525. Total number of students in the sophomore, junior and senior classes in 1960-61 is just 515. So total enrollment at Lincoln-Way will jump by some 150 next year.

There is no reason to see a lessening of this trend as the classes grow larger in the lower grades, 363 children are now attending first grade in the area.

TB SEAL SALE COMMITTEE for the area are (1 to r) John Oster, New Lenox school head, Grant B. Geuther and Ted Massey, the last two of Frankfort. As usual the seal sale will be conducted by mail and the Will County Tuberculosis Association relies on volunteer contributions to meet its needs. Some of the money is sent into ART DISPLAYS drawn by Margo Book, of Mokena, a senior at Lincoln-Way high school, have been accepted for publication by the Wilson Library Bulletin. The displays were created originally for the school library, where Miss Dorothy Wells is in charge.

Margo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric G. Book, of Mokena. And if artistic talent is hereditary should not be surprising. Her father is a designer with the Andrew Corp., of Orland Park and two of her uncles are architects. John Wakeman, editor of the Wilson Library Bulletin, found Margo's displays "so imaginative" that he had to accept them for publication. Lincoln-Way has had nine displays accepted by Wilson in the past five years. The Wilson Co. is the leading publisher of library bulletins.

Margo, who hopes to be a commercial artist, has been studying under Kenneth Kinney, of the L-W art department, for the past three years.

Chamber To Sponsor Local Scout Troop In Mokena

Mokena's Chamber of Commerce agreed to their regular meeting, Thursday, Nov. 22 to sponsor the local Boy Scout Troop 40 for the coming year. Don Bost was appointed Institutional representative.

The group also announced that the Chamber would erect a Christmas tree in the Rock Island parking lot on Front street and that two or three strings of lights would adorn the road between Wolf and Division streets. Merchants were also urged to increase their efforts in decorating their store fronts this holiday season.

Mr. Bost was instructed to represent the local Boy Scouts at all district gatherings and to promote scouting locally. Although, not obligated, the Chamber agreed to back the scouts in the area and to aid them financially whenever needed.

The Chamber is preparing a new telephone directory and local information booklet which they plan to distribute in January. The new booklet will contain information pertaining to Mokena; emergency phones, meeting dates and a general listing which will contain all phone numbers in the area. A committee will be appointed at the December meeting to plan the program for the Chamber's annual banquet this winter. The committee will be instructed to stress progress of the group in local development in planning the affair.

A charter was asked for by the Mokena Chamber of Commerce in a letter sent to Secretary of States Charles Carpenter. The group asked to incorporate as a non-profit organization.

They are also inquiring into the possibilities of becoming associated with the State and National Chambers of Commerce.

Junior Woman's Club To Collect Stamps For Vets

MRS. SHERMAN KNOX
Tel. FI 9-0211
"Holiday Time" was the theme of the Junior Woman's Club meeting, Monday Nov. 21, in the Legion Hall. Mrs. Juanita Bohne, past president of the Third District Federation of woman's Clubs, presented a showing of exquisite Christmas decorations she has created. During her program she taught the members how to make their own decorations, and gave many wonderful ideas for the holidays ahead. Mesdames, Henry Rafacz, Wayne Griffin and Barbara Fish took home beautiful centerpieces awarded to them by Mrs. Bohne.

Mrs. William Nelson reported that all tickets for the play at Drury Lane Theater have been sold. Proceeds from this benefit performance will be used to help finance a scholarship fund for students in Illinois who wish to become teachers of exceptionally handicapped children.

The club will collect stamps for hospitalized veterans according to chairman, Mrs. Billy Clark. New, used or damaged stamps will be accepted for this project; used stamps should be cut out with a 1/4 inch border around the stamp. These stamps play a valuable part in the psychotherapy program for wounded veterans.

Mrs. Nancy Bettenhausen, 6343 W. 175th, Tinley Park says: I have always been very careful with my wash, but not matter how I try I still get a dingy grayness in my linens. Continual switching of various laundry soaps did not stop the grayness. A friend recommended MIRACLE WHITE 9 in 1 to me, my first wash surprised me, My linens were brilliant white and my colored clothes looked new again. Even white bobby socks came clean for the first time without scrubbing.

Nancy is employed at Jewel Store in Tinley Park. She has discovered that a small amount of MIRACLE WHITE 9 in 1 and a small amount of your favorite soap will give you the most beautiful wash imaginable in any kind of water. Nylons and dacrons keep white and yellowed garments and turn white again. Wonderful for woolens and elastic garments.

Anything safe in water is safe in MIRACLE WHITE 9 in 1 liquid.

A 98¢ quart of MIRACLE WHITE 9 in 1 is enough for 16 complete washings. Buy MIRACLE WHITE 9 in 1 at all food stores. IT MUST GIVE YOU THE CLEANEST, WHITEST WASH OR YOUR MONEY BACK.

Cook Co. Pushes Plans To Pave Secondary Road

(CNS) Plans to accelerate Cook county's secondary road rebuilding program so that all 600 miles of such roads will be hard surfaced within three years were disclosed at the county board last week.

County Highway Supt. William J. Mortimer submitted a budget request for 1961 of $9,225,829, an increase of 225,829, an increase of $1,297,994 over 1960 appropriations.

The largest item in the increase was $300,000 for secondary road improvements. "Only about half of our secondary roads are now hard surfaced," said President Dan Ryan. "We now plan a 3-year acceleration through which we will hard surface, mostly with blacktop the remaining 300 miles of non-expressways which are now gravel and crushed stone."

Other increases are for rising costs and to provide $10 to $20 monthly pay raises for some of the 1,600 employees of the highway department under the county's new classification program providing yearly raises for four years.

The highway budget does not include about $60 million to be spent out of bond funds during the year on the expressway building program, largely the South Expressway.

Hearings on the highway budget are set for Nov. 14, the date previously fixed for hearings on the $78-million plus corporate county budget.

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa Claus:
I am glad you have a post-office in Mokena. You know, Santa, Daddy has to work in Europe now and that is real far away from home. It did not take long on the jet airplane but it's real, real far away from home.

The kids all talk different here and it isn't much fun to play with them. Our toys and bikes are still on the big boat on the ocean. They have no playground around the hotel where we live until our furniture arrives.

Gee whiz, I wish we could come home again; no Captain Kangaroo or Nutty Squirrel on TV over here.

Santa, do you know what we would like most of all for Christmas? A magic telephone Mommy says we can't call Grandma and Grandpa in Mokena from these phones here. We like so much to talk to them. Could you please make us one Santa; the kind you can hear all across the ocean? Don't leave our presents at Grandma and Grandpa's house as we live in Germany now. Please try hard to make one Santa as we have been good boys.

Scoutmaster In Need Of Assistant

Mokena Scout Troop #10 needs an Assistant Scoutmaster if scouting is to make any great strides in Mokena, according to Scoutmaster Arthur Omland. Speaking at the Mokena Chamber of Commerce, Nov. 22, Omland said: "We have to have more outdoor activity and a variation of regular meeting activity if we are to sustain our envious record of outstanding scouting." Our goal is to increase scouting interest; without an assistant scoutmaster this is next to impossible.

Scouting is more than 30 years old in Mokena and Omland has been associated with the movement for more than 20 years of this period. Hours of his employment prevent him from organizing weekend outings which is an important part of scouting. With an assistant to lend him a hand, Omland feels he could inaugurate the greatest outdoor program in the district.

Omland spoke before the regular meeting of the Chamber who agreed to sponsor the local troop during the coming year.

Prowler Shuts Off Frankfort Sewage Plant

Someone broke into the Frankfort sewage treatment plant last week-end and closed all the switches, shutting the plant down.

According to Police Chief Francis Simon entry was apparently gained by forcing a lock.

Shutting off the power allowed sewage to be deposited in the tanks, necessitating several hours of labor by Victor Eisenbrandt, who is in charge.

The shutdown was discovered Sunday morning.

There are approximately 140 homes connected with the Frankfort sewer system as of this time.

The person responsible for the shut down apparently knew what he was doing, it was pointed out.

Don't Let Fire Spoil Your Christmas

We are anticipating the holiday season a bit because the subject on which we write is not a pleasant one and to talk of death and disaster at Christmas time is something we would avoid. Especially if such misfortune is linked with Christmas and the subject we are concerned with is directly connected with the yuletide so we would dispose of it now.

And the reason we write of it at all is thru the hope that perhaps some word here may cause some person to use extra care and thus prevent the intrusion of tragedy at Christmas.

Statistics show that many persons die in fires during the Christmas holidays.

Last December a thousand persons died in fires. Chief victims were the very young, children under five and persons 75 years old or older.

The National Safety Council, which has made a study of these things, has some suggestions which if followed may serve to keep you and your loved ones from becoming fire victims.

1.-Don't let gift wrappings accumulate so they become a fire hazard.

2.-Don't smoke in bed. And at holiday parties use deep ash trays that will now allow burning cigarettes to spill out.

3.-Check your Christmas tree wiring for possible shorts. Better buy new strings of lights than to risk tragedy.

4.-Don't leave Christmas trees burning if you are away from home or out of the room too long.

5.-Don't put up your tree too early or leave it up too long so it become dried out. Keep it moist as possible.

6.-If using candles and evergreen branches as mantle or table decorations it is best to leave the candles unlighted. But if you do light them don't keep them burning too long and do not leave them out of your sight.

7.-If you are using a metal tree follow the directions most manufacturers give -- illuminate them with flood lights. Don't put a string of lights on a metal tree -- the short that may result could mean death for you or one of the family.

Enjoy yourselves but play it safe.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

The Christmas tree season is upon us. It really shouldn't be -- yet, but everything has been speeded up so and life is lived at such a faster pace that the time may come when Christmas will be observed in mid-summer and the Fourth of July celebrated in December.

As it is Thanksgiving Day is getting jostled and pushed by those who would shove it back to follow on the heels of Halloween. The reason for this, of course, is to add to the concentrated shopping period before Christmas.

The Christmas buying season gets off officially the week-end following Thanksgiving. Streets and stores are decorated for the season and naturally the use of evergreens in such decorations brings the Christmas tree into the picture.

Actually the sale of Christmas trees to be used as such in the homes has not begun although this corner wouldn't give any odds that people aren't already installing them.

The personal reaction of this department is that this is too soon to put up Christmas trees -- two or three weeks too soon.

For one thing it is difficult to keep these trees sufficiently moist for too long a time. And when the needles get dry fire insurance agents keep their fingers crossed.

There are so called Christmas trees that are listed as fire proof but are sorry substitutes for the real thing.

Such substitutes should be listed under Christmas trees, in fact, but under decorations. In our book you can list those flocked trees under decorations too and as for the metal ones -- well, there we are -- you say tomatto and I say tomatto. Some folks like their potatoes mashed, some boiled, some baked.

Som folks like artificial Christmas trees, some like them flocked but are devoid of leaves or other signs of life. They tie on ribbons, a few ornaments and employ trick lighting to accent what they call the artistic effort.

Those of us standing over here don't care for beatnik Christmas trees. We like 'em green, with the pine family smell and with ornaments of all kinds and colors, and tinsel, and popcorn balls, and a star or angel at the top and illuminated with vari-colored lights.

Exterior decorations for homes and business places are something else again and work on them will ante-date that on the interiors.

Practically every community has contests at the yuletide and prizes are given for homes and commercial places the judges consider the best decorated.

And don't be too hard on the judges. Just remember they wouldn't like our choices either.

After all, what difference does it make who gets a prize and who doesn't. Everyone who enters such contests is spending time, effort and money to add a colorful note to the holidays and one isn't wrong if he says all the decorations look good.

Anyway let's not get into an argument. Christmas time is supposed to be a peaceful time.

WILLIAM F. WHITESIDE
COOK COUNTY ASSOC. FARM ADVISER
TINLEY PARK KE 2-4374

Two 4-H members from the South Cook area helped observe Farm-City Week.

Jean Siemsen, Tinley Park of the Tinley Hustlers 4-H Club and Leslie Yunker, Orland Park of the Orland Boys 4-H Club, appeared on the program of the downtown Chicago Kiwanis Club. They told of their experiences in 4-H work and what effect it had on their lives. They also reported how 4-H work helps prepare young people to become better citizens for the communities of tomorrow. Jean and Leslie gave excellent reports. They were a credit to the 4-H program. Our thanks to Ty Thompson, Park Forest, of the National 4-H Service Committee for arranging for their appearance on the program.

It was my pleasure to appear on the program of the Chicago Heights Kiwanis Club during Farm-City Week. This club, through George Angus, chairman of the agricultural committee, contributes to the 4-H program by sponsoring a leadership magazine.

Earl Siemsen, Tinley Park, spoke to the Blue Island Kiwanis about 4-H work. Earl is a leader of the Tinley Hustlers 4-H Club.

The city limit sign is about the only thing that separates rural and urban people these days. In fact, five out of eight people living outside the city limits these days are not farmers, while only three out of eight actually farm.

Back in the days when it was only the cow that jumped over the moon, you could tell the difference between farmers and city people. Today they face the same community problems. They attend the same churches and schools and use the same community services, and you can't tell them apart.

With farmers making up only about 5% of the total population, the old adage, "Depressions are farm bred and farm led" is not as true as it once was. However, producing, processing, and marketing farm, ranch, and forest products is the nation's number one industry, using about 22 million workers. Farmers use about 17 billion dollars worth of products of industry as inputs in the farm business.

The gross farm income from American farms totaled $27.9

billion in 1959. This total was made up of $33.1 billion from cash receipts from farm marketings, $681 million from government payments, $1.6 billion from farm products consumed at home, $2 billion from rental value of farm dwellings, and $518 million from the net change in inventories.

Total production costs other than wages, rent and interest on mortgages totaled $21.6 billion. After paying wages, rent, and mortgage interest, farm operators had $11.8 billion left as their net income for 1959.

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZEL, ASS'T. FARM ADVISER

Cactus plants make a good addition to the house plants usually grown. With a minimum of care they will grow easily and many will even bloom. Among the numerous species will be found plants of small size and contrasting forms, well suited for home use.

Cactus plants require a soil that is not too rich. A good mixture consists of 1/3 good friable loam, 1/3 sharp sand and 1/3 peat moss, thoroughly mixed. To each 12-quart pailful of this mixture add 1/2 cup of bonemeal. It is essential that cactus plants have perfect drainage. Therefore, 1/4 of the depth of the receptacles in which they are potted should be filled with broken flower pots or gravel. Since the root systems of these plants are rather small, it is advisable to select receptacles that are not too large.

In potting firm the soil well around the roots, and water the plants thoroughly, being sure that the water penetrates all of the soil. No absolute guide can be given for future waterings. Most of the trouble with cactus in the home comes from over-watering during the normal winter dormant period. The plants, whatever their size, need only enough water to keep them from shriveling. They will do well in ordinary room temperature, provided there is ample light. They will require more water if the room is very hot and dry than if it is cool and moist. Evaporating pans attached to radiators will supply some atmospheric moisture, which is beneficial to all house plants. If potted in the recommended soil mixture with drainage as suggested, the plants should not require watering more often than once a week.

During the summer months cactus plants may be plunged, in their pots, outdoors in a bed of sand or ashes over good drainage. In the early fall, it will be necessary to bring them indoors.

Christmas cactus requires somewhat more fertile soil, such as a mixture of 2 parts good friable loam, 1 part sharp sand, 1 part peat moss, and 1/2 part well-rotted cow manure. To each bushful of soil, add one 5 inch potful of bonemeal and mix thoroughly.

This cactus requires more water than the others and should be grown in full sunlight in a window sill or in a hanging basket. However, during winter, from November on, it should be kept a little dry. It normally flowers during the Thanksgiving and Christmas season. If kept too wet during this period, it will not bloom as well. This plant is usually propagated by grafting.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The scope of the present slackness in the general business picture has received a considerable amount of comment in recent weeks. The stock market itself does not indicate any general fear of the future for business. However, the stock market usually anticipates business trends rather than reflecting current conditions.

The market anticipation of trends is explained by the fact that about 1500 different issues are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Each of the firms with stock so listed, have a somewhat different situation to meet although some very similar. Alert officers, directors, and employees of each of these firms, become aware of changes in the firms business fortune and their individual purchases and sales reflect this. Another important investment factor, is the existence of a number of large institutional investors with extensive research facilities and professional investment managers. Brokers try to make their business to have close business connections and they also watch the trend and type of trading being done.

Poor's Investment Advisory Service of Nov. 21, 1960, reports they continue to expect only a mild recession of no great duration and put more weight on constructive monetary factors and favorable longer-range prospects for business.

It is obvious that investors are waiting for more detailed information on the policies to be adopted by the Kennedy Administration. Certain popular areas are largely "one industry" and highly unionized. Their influence on government policies will be closely followed. For quite some time, the oils have not been in favor and even the strongest have seen their common stock selling at prices on which the dividend yield has been better than five percent. This market condition was due to overproduction in the industry. This condition is not new to the petroleum industry, but is a condition they have been able to adjust. Petroleum has had a constantly expanding market and its use in the chemical industry has added to this expanding energy market.

Financial World of Nov. 16, 1960 reports that widening refinery profit margins help to explain the recent revival of investment interest in domestic oil shares.

"Refinery profit margins in October held at the highest level in more than 18 months. In that month the nations oil refineries received an average of $3.95 a barrel for petroleum products and paid an average of $3 a barrel for crude oil. (Independent Petroleum Association figures) The spread of $0.95 a barrel was unchanged from the September figure and was a sharp improvement over October 1959 when refineries had a margin of $0.78 a barrel.

"Gasoline prices edged down slightly in October to an average of 11.99 cents a gallon from 12.02 cents a month before, but remained well above 11.57 cents average recorded in October 1959."

Kerosene and home heating oil prices are up from the year earlier.

U.S. News and World Report carries a survey of the automatic pay raises in 1961 on basis of present union contracts. The listing gives average raise per hour as: Construction - 14.3 cents; public utilities 11.3 cents; communications - 10.5 cents; lumber - 9.8 cents; trucking - 9.7 cents; furniture - 9.7, chemicals - 7.7 cents, steel - 7.2 cents, transportation - 7.1 cents, paper - 6.9 cents, clothing - 6.4 cents, and rubber - 5.8 cents.

The Upper Room

He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. (Psalm 147:3).

Years ago a marvelous skillful craftsman worked in a tony shop in one of our cities. He specialized in the restoration of what appeared to be hopelessly broken things. When a patron brought a ruined vase, a shattered statue, a shivered glass to him, there was no hope until it was entrusted to his care!

With loving, patient care, he would slowly fit together the fragments. By his clever skill, the broken thing would be made whole again. Years of the most patient, careful, persistent toil had gone into the mastery of his skill. No other possessed it; it was this man's alone!

The comfort of God is like that! It is God's skill, and no human has ever acquired it -- and never will! As long as our broken and sinful lives are left in our hands, they remain broken. Only by placing them in God's hands can they be restored.

PRAYER: Eternal God, nearer to us than breathing and closer than hands and feet, we commend ourselves anew to Thy keeping. In all the experiences of life, we pray for Thy continuing favor and the consciousness of Thy presence; through Jesus Christ, our Redeemer. Amen.

Professor Gives Low-Down On Winter Driving

BY BOB FOSS

A University of Wisconsin research professor who has conducted winter driving tests on Wisconsin's ice and snow for the past dozen years has revealed that some winter tire advertisers occasionally "get carried away and present misleading information which is unfair to the majority of companies which stick to factual information."

He calls attention to a national safety committee resolution warning that "misleading advertising concerning non-skid properties of tires can become an indirect cause of costly traffic tie-ups and painful accidents by leading motorists into taking risks of which they are not fully aware."

He is Prof. Archie H. Easton, director of the motor vehicle research laboratory at the university of Wisconsin, who points to results of comprehensive tests by the National Safety Council's committee on winter driving hazards. He is chairman of the committee and is described as the outstanding authority on "coefficients of friction as related to winter road surfaces."

Prof. Easton's favorite subject, when he isn't teaching his engineering classes at the university, is to talk about the facts of safe winter driving. He points out that during snow-ice months rural traffic death rates are three times higher than in urban areas.

Having risked his limbs and life time and again in winter test driving, Easton can tell about hundreds of test results with all types of vehicles, tire treads and chains to reduce dangers of skidding or stalling. He recommends that all snow-belt drivers, particularly those in rural communities, study the following facts:

WINTER STARTING -- When it comes to starting and pulling ability on glare ice, snow tires are 28 per cent better than regular tires; regular tire chains are 231 per cent better, while reinforced tire chains are 409 per cent better. On loosely packed snow, the snow tires are 51 per cent better than regular tires, whereas reinforced tire chains provide 313 per cent better traction.

STOPPING ABILITY -- On glare ice, at only 20 mph, braking distances for regular tires average 195 feet. Snow tires take 174 feet, regular tire chains 99 feet, and reinforced tire chains 77 feet. At 20 mph on loosely packed snow, regular tires stopped in 60 feet, snow tires 52 feet, regular tire chains 46 feet, and reinforced tire chains 38 feet.

BASIC CONCLUSIONS -- Prof. Easton summarizes other basic conclusions from his winter driving tests, to aid drivers in 43 snow-belt states just before severe weather and road conditions set in, as follows:

1. The most hazardous winter surface condition is ice near or at the freezing temperature;

2. Braking distances on winter surfaces are 3 to 12 times as great as those on bare pavement;

3. Tires and traction devices listed in the approximate order of increasing effectiveness on winter surfaces are as follows:

A. Smooth tires -- very poor in cornering. Should not be used.

B. Regular tires -- inadequate under many winter conditions.

C. Winterized tire (tread treatment or breakout material) -- provide better traction on ice, not much improvement in snow over regular tires.

D. Mud-snow modern design -- provide better snow and ice traction than regular tires.

E. Embedded metal coils, serpentine ribs -- provide better snow and ice traction than regular tires. Effective on wet ice.

F. Sanders -- performance outstanding in traction on ice only.

G. Regular round wire tire chains -- Good stop-and-go performance on ice and snow. Side-slip resistance low compared to reinforced tire chains.

H. Reinforced tire chains -- best in overall performance on both ice and snow.

WHAT TO DO? -- 1. A driver should select the tire that best suits his situation and supplement it by always having reinforced tire chains available in the car trunk. They are often needed for severe conditions.

2. Pump brakes to reduce skidding, maintain steering control, and shorten stopping distance. Use brakes judiciously to evaluate road surface if possible.

3. If a vehicle begins to skid, the driver should reduce the power and turn the steering wheel in the direction of the rear end skid until recovery begins.

4. The application of power and steering forces should be gradual and smooth on winter surfaces.

5. Use recommended tire pressures for best tire performance on ice.

Attitude Key Factor In Training Of Drivers

Who are the best drivers? Men or women? Boys or girls? Ronald Larsen, Lincoln-Way Community high school driver training instructor, would not hazard an answer on that subject.

However, he was certain about the things that help make a good, responsible driver for the twentieth century highway.

"Many people think that learning to drive a car is mastering the mechanics of gear shifting, braking, etc." Mr. Larsen commented.

"The truth of the matter is this: Good drivers not only master the mechanics, but are well trained in driver attitudes. Driver attitudes probably account for the larger portion of our auto accidents," Larsen continued.

"Here at Lincoln-Way and at the 10,000 other high schools where driver education is taught, citizenship, safety and responsibility are the key classroom topics," concluded Larsen.

There is good reason for this classroom effort in the American public school. Seven per cent of American drivers are under 20, but 14% of the accidents are caused by this driving group.

Forty-five hours are spent in the classroom training program with six hours behind the wheel of an auto in an effort to make the right kind of driver.

A driver training textbook stresses the importance of attitudes in driving. The text contains much practical advice on safety, drivers license, emotional maturity, car buying, speed and general traffic conduct -- special emphasis here.

A workbook accompanies the text and gives the student opportunity to transpose ideas and important materials from the driving experience and the textbook to paper. It is proving to be an excellent method to fix attitudes and mechanics.

Instructors are now required by the state to have at least sixteen hours of college work in driver safety before they can begin classroom teaching. Mr. Larsen is presently engaged in a graduate course in driver safety with the University of Illinois.

There has been some criticism in many local areas in the United States about expenditures on driving education. Much of this criticism stems from a misunderstanding of the financing.

In Illinois the state government holds this program so vital and important that it almost totally supports the driver training programs at the various schools.

In 1959-60 over 200 students at Lincoln-Way took the full time driving education program. The total cost of the driving training was $4665.38. The state reimbursed Lincoln-Way high school $4320. Thus the actual cost to the local people was just $345.38 cents or less than $2 per student.

In fact, this valuable training is the least expensive to the local district of any program. Many insurance companies are now in the habit of giving a 10% discount to those drivers under 25, who have completed driver education at their local high school.

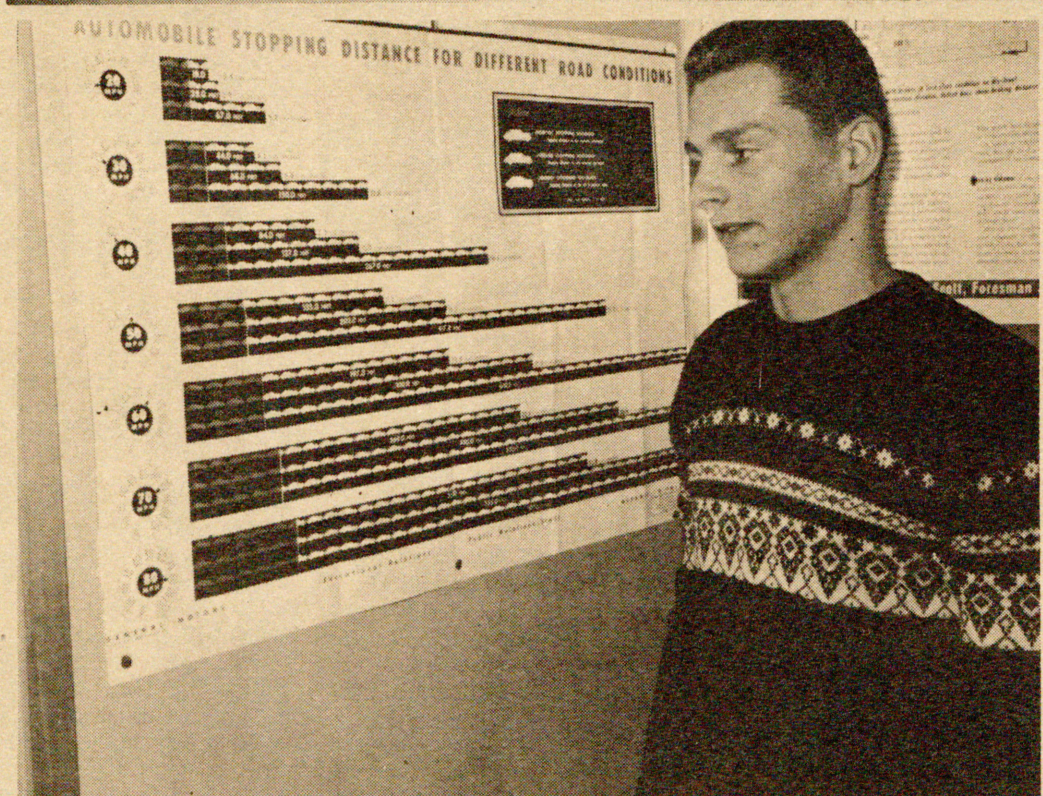

Special electronics devices have assisted greatly in producing better drivers. Students can be put into a simulated situation where reaction time on braking can be accurately computed. Night glare is another problem that can now be tested electronically in the classroom.

Magnetic street boards with "juniors" toy cars are excellent for demonstrating the actuality of the textbook.

The local high school, with the help of the state, provides expert behind the wheel experience for the student.

The student does not learn the bad habits of parents in the driving experience. Instead they learn the correct methods of driving a vehicle. This is an important point, to often overlooked in this program, it was brought out.

More new methods are helping in this growing area of practical education. The cockpit type of training is proving extremely valuable. This is similar to the training given to airforce pilots.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION course at Lincoln-Way high school has some 200 students enrolled. Besides being taught the mechanics of driving pupils are instructed in safety practices and responsibility, attributes of good citizenship. Top photo shows Allene Gill, of Manhattan, and Ronald Larsen, faculty member in charge of driver education, in a dual control car. There are two other girls in the rear seat, observers, who do not show in the picture. In the picture below John Burroughs, of New Lenox, is studying a chart showing stopping distances required on different type roads at different speeds. (L-W photos)

Zoning Head Favors Limiting Realty Signs

(CNS) The regulation of advertising real estate signs in subdivisions was included in text amendments to the new comprehensive zoning ordinance for unincorporated areas which were submitted to the county board this week by Zoning Administrator Daniel Ferrone.

The proposal on signs was that they shall be "only for purpose of identification, sale, or rental of homes", shall not exceed two in number nor 200 square feet in area, nor be located closer than 50 feet to any of the property lines of the property on which placed. Neither shall they be more than 15 feet above the curb level, nor remain more than two years after issuance of a permit.

Another regulation submitted provided for forwarding of plans providing for 100 or more new parking spaces by the zoning administrator to the superintendent of highways to obtain approval on whether egress and ingress is adequate to allow safe and efficient vehicular access, as well as minimizing interference with traffic movements on adjacent highways.

The highway department must return the plans within 15 days with his recommendation. A third subject was allowing of lot size reductions by the zoning board of appeals where portions of a property have been condemned for public use. All the proposals were referred to the zoning board of appeals for report back to the county board.

Expect Cook Co.

Board To Set J.P.'s Pay At $6,600

(CNS) The county board tentatively agreed at a budget hearing Tuesday to fix the salaries for 77 suburban justices of the peace to be elected next April under the new law turning their fees over to the county, at $6,600 per year set up in the budget requests.

The minimum provided by law is $6,000 and the maximum $12,000 per year. The salary fixed in the 1961 budget will continue through the 4-year term for which they are elected.

Besides the $338,800 which this will cost Cook county, the budget estimates include $89,240 to pay thirty clerks, one for each township, $355 per month, one supervisor $505 per month, and $15,800 for impersonal services, a total cost for J.P.'s of $443,840.

Deputy Comptroller C. Richard Hodgman told the board it is unlikely the fees and fines will coming near equalling this amount.

One problem which should bring about early amendment of the law is that at present the justices can serve only for cases in their own township, Commissioner William N. Erickson pointed out. Thus, he said, justices in rural Schaumburg township will have very little work but under the law will get the same pay, and the law should be changed so they can earn the salary elsewhere.

Each of the 30 townships will have two justices, and the populous ones an additional justice for each 40,000 residents. The exact number will not be known until the 1960 census for townships is released, but the 77 estimate includes one extra for possible use in three or four townships on the population borderline.

Chairman John J. Duffy urged immediate attempt at amendment also to eliminate justices of the peace in townships like Evanston, Cicero, and Oak Park, which have the same boundaries as the village and where a municipal court exists that would leave little or no work for the $6,600 justices.

Sandburg L-W Meet In League Opener

Knights Keep Hand In With Win Over Peotone

BY BILL SLUIS

The Lincoln-Way Knights led all the way last Wednesday night in defeating the Peotone Blue Devils, 58-55. The Knights built a 15-point lead during the first three quarters, and Peotone's fourth quarter rally fell short.

Lincoln-Way's Duane Warning led scoring with 20 points, and he was closely followed by Skip Kruzich's 19. Fred Vanliten of Peotone was third with 14 markers, and Bill Meyer of Peotone had 13.

Thru some excellent maneuvering, the Knights took a 9-3 lead in the first quarter. The Blue Devils opened the game with a man-to-man defense, so four of the L-W quintet moved to one side of the court and drew their defenders over with them. This enabled Skip Kruzich to dribble around his man for an easy layup and gave the Knights a tremendous psychological advantage. When Peotone adopted a zone defense later in the quarter, Lincoln-Way stalled. At the end of the first quarter the Devils, who usually open strongly, had only three points, compared to Lincoln-Way's nine.

Scoring was greatly accelerated in the second quarter, with Peotone score 17 and the Knights 16. All but four of Peotone's points were canned from the free throw line, but Lincoln-Way did most of its scoring on field goals. Lincoln-Way led at half time 25-20.

The third quarter was property of Duane Warning. The big Lincoln-Way center dumped in ten points and helped the Knights pad their lead over the hapless Devils. When the quarter finally ended, the score was 44-29. Lincoln-Way had amassed a 15 point lead!

In the fourth quarter, Peotone made a desperate attempt to close the gap. They scored 26 points to the Knights' 14. They hit six baskets and 14 free throws. In short, they played an excellent eight minutes. But the final buzzer rang and Peotone's Blue Devils were still three points short, 58-55.

Peotone would never have come so close to the Knights were it not for the fact that three of Lincoln-Way's first five fouled out. With exactly 5:00 remaining, Duane Warning incurred his fifth foul. Within three and a half minutes, Bob Lichtenwalter and Skip Kruzich were also eliminated. Even without these three, however, Lincoln-Way's reserves were able to hold on for the victory.

Victory brought sweet revenge for last season's loss to Peotone. The game was the first ever won by a Lincoln-Way team playing at Peotone's gym.

Tomorrow evening the Knights of Lincoln-Way will do battle with the Sandburg Eagles at Sandburg. It will be the opening SouthWest Suburban clash for both teams. Game time will be 8:00 p.m., with the Frosh-Soph game at 6:45.

WHAT GOES UP must come down, of course, but not necessarily thru the basket. At least that is the hope of the worried looking Peotone player watching John Burroughs, of Lincoln-Way going up for a bucket. Coming from the side court ready for a follow shot or a rebound is No. 45, Donn Fenn.

Hold Open Board Meet

Mrs. George Bosworth, president of the Palos-Orland League of Women voters, invites all members of the League to attend the annual Fire-side Board Meeting, Monday, Dec. 5 at the home of Mrs. James Mayer, 11912 S. 74th Ave, Palos Heights.

This is the one board meeting that all members are invited to attend and observe the board in action. You are encouraged to bring your ideas and to take an active part in their discussions.

Revenue, Election Laws and Constitution Conventions are just a few of the State Agenda items that will be discussed.

As members, your opinions are both important and needed in planning the league program. So girls, make an effort to attend!

Sandburg Divides Openers, Host To L-W Tomorrow

Having divided a pair of pre-conference games, the Carl Sandburg varsity basketball team will be host to Lincoln-Way tomorrow night (Friday) in the first SWS league encounter for both teams.

Sandburg lost two good men, Don Arnold and Jerry McBride -- via graduation but Coach Bill Adams still has a good club, one that will have to be taken into consideration in any talk about title hopes.

The Eagles dusted off Thornridge Thanksgiving eve in handy fashion, 67 to 30. They opened up a 23 to 7 lead in the first quarter and then went on from there. The score at halftime was 33 to 14 for Sandburg and 50 to 23 at the close of the third period.

Lance Roberts was high point man for the Eagles that night with 22. It was an easy game for Sandburg and everyone on the bench but the managers had an opportunity to see action.

The Sandburg team that met Riverside-Brookfield last Friday night, however, was a sad looking outfit but adherents philosophize that if the Eagles had a bad one in their systems the time to get it out was before conference play began.

Riverside-Brookfield really walloped Sandburg, 79 to 58. It has not been often that a Sandburg basketball team has been beaten by a wide spread. Friday apparently was one of those nights. The story of the game can be told quite simply -- in the second half Sandburg made only two baskets from the floor.

Sandburg has good height and good talent and no one -- especially Coach Joe Kruzich of Lincoln-Way -- is selling the Eagles short.

Rev. Bizer Is Guest Speaker

At a recent Green Garden PTO grade school meeting the Rev. Erich Bizer of Frankfort was the guest speaker. The title of his address was "Thanksgiving". The meeting was held, Nov. 18 in the Community grade school.

First and second grade rooms won the attendance award. The attendance award for the parents was received by Mrs. Maynard Werner.

Following the business meeting, presided by Wayne Krapf president, refreshments were served by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nagel, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Koelman and Mr. and Mrs. John Zilstra.

Home Bureau Board Discuss Year's Events

The calendar for the ensuing year was discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Will County Home Bureau board presided over by Mrs. Frank Goodwin. Reports were given by the seven members present and also by the Home Adviser, Mrs. Alma Neissner.

The radio program on WJOL for this Wednesday will be about 4-H. The Craft Day previously scheduled for December 9, has been cancelled. It was decided that junior leaders of 4-H should be recognized by the presentation of a special award.

Mrs. Lloyd Leupold asked for four volunteers to serve on the board of the Health Improvement Association, January 9 was set for the kickoff dinner of the H. I. A. at 6:30 p.m. at the New Lenox Methodist church.

The second of the two annual tours will be December 8 to Amling's Flower Shop and the Olson Rug Company in Chicago. The deadline for reservations is December 1. Fee for transportation and luncheon is $4.75.

The next meeting will be December 19 in the conference Room of the Farm Bureau Building.

Cut Rates For Electric Space Heat

A reduction in charges for electric space heating was placed in effect last week-end by the Commonwealth Edison Public Service Company system.

Under one rate revision authorized by the Illinois Commerce Commission, a new low rate step of 1.6 cents per kilowatt-hour will be available to residential customers whose space heating facilities are exclusively electric. Formerly the lowest charge for such customers was 1.75 cents per kilowatt-hour.

At the same time the utility reduced from 1.75 cents to 1.6 cents the maximum average kilowatt-hour charge for commercial, industrial and governmental electric space heating service.

The new low step of 1.6 cents is about 29% below the utility's lowest kilowatt hour charge for general household uses of electricity. It is expected to stimulate further growth of electric house heating in this area.

The revised electric heating rates, like all rates of the utility are subject to a fuel adjustment clause.

SCHOOL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

The Christmas school program for St. Mary's at Mokena will be held Wednesday, Dec. 16 at 8 p.m. in the Carpenter street public school.

Each grade, first thru eighth, will give their individual presentations; the upper grades will present a skit. Over 300 students are now enrolled in the school this year.

Parents and families are cordially invited to attend.

A motorist whose name is given as Theodore Slettebo, of 40 Parker st., Mokena, is one of the motorists whose drivers' license has been ordered revoked by Secretary of State Charles Carpenter because of a charge of reckless homicide, according to a report from Springfield.
